

REPUBLICANS CONTROL ASSEMBLY BY 48, SENATE BY 17

WADSWORTH WINS BY 57,023 131,000 LEAD FOR WHITMAN; SEABURY STILL HOPEFUL

Majority of the Bull Mooseers went back to the Republican party. This is shown by the returns from all points where the Republicans made big gains over two years ago. These gains are equal to the Progressive loss.

The entire State machinery will be in the hands of the Republican party after Jan. 1. Thousands of Tammany followers who have been employed in various State departments will be thrown out in the cold, cruel world.

Ohio went Republican and Minnesota went Democratic. Returns up to date from Illinois state that the result of the contest for the Senate is still in doubt, with Roger Sullivan, Democrat, enjoying an apparent slight advantage while awaiting returns from remote districts.

Walter M. Chandler, the Progressive candidate for Congress in the Nineteenth District, comprising part of the upper west side of Harlem, won over Ottinger, Republican, and Butevich, Democrat, by a plurality of 480 votes.

The New York delegation in the Sixty-fourth Congress, with returns to date from one doubtful district, will consist of twenty-one Republicans, twenty Democrats and one Progressive. This represents a loss of twelve Democrats.

An item of more than passing local interest concerns New York's neighbor, Hoboken. That city went Republican yesterday for the first time in its history, electing a Republican Board of Aldermen pledged to raise the salaries of the policemen.

MEYER LONDON BEATS GOLDFOGLE ON EAST SIDE. Meyer London, Socialist, beat Henry M. Goldfogle, Tammany, for Congress in the Twelfth District by 924.

There is no doubt about London waking up the House of Representatives. He is an advanced Socialist, burning up with earnestness. One of his pet ideas is to prohibit the exportation of food to the nations at war.

The Democrats elected these United States Senators: Underwood, Alabama; Shively, Indiana; Clarke, Arkansas; Fletcher, Florida; Smith and Beckwith, Georgia; Beckman and Camden in Kentucky; Moyle in Utah; Overman in Missouri; Overman in North Carolina, and Gore in Oklahoma.

Some of the more prominent Republicans who have been returned by the Republican victories are "Uncle Joe" Cannon, former National Republican Chairman McKinley from Illinois and Ebenzer Hill from Connecticut.

The Progressive slump in New York extended into every county of the State. It is significant that wherever there was an appreciable decrease in the vote of the Progressive vote there was a gain of equal proportions by the Republicans, indicating that the followers of the Roosevelt party were returning en masse to their old love.

In Erie County, for instance, the Progressive loss on the vote for Governor, compared with that of two years ago, was 24,900, while the Republican gain was an even 24,900.

In Westchester County the Progressive loss on Governor was 12,100 and the Republican gain was 12,100.

In Onondaga County the Republicans made an even greater gain than in any other county in the State. Two years ago the vote for Mr. Roosevelt was 14,494; yesterday it was 1,235, as evidenced by the vote for Davenport, Progressive candidate for Governor, who ran a bare 300 ahead of his competitor, Sulzer.

The figures from districts in the greater city told the same story regarding the Progressive vote as those from up the State. Two districts, one in Manhattan and the other in Kings, are typical of the others. In the Nineteenth District, Manhattan, where Straus polled 6,040 votes two years ago, the vote for Davenport yesterday was 533.

In the Thirtieth Assembly District of Kings the Progressive vote was only 496, compared with 1,641 two years ago. The Republican vote was 2,350 as compared with 1,216 for Mr. Hedges two years ago.

The vote for Mr. Sulzer throughout the State was much larger than the Democratic leaders expected, but much smaller than predicted by Mr. Sulzer himself. In some of the up-State districts he led Mr. Davenport, his Progressive competitor, receiving the full strength of the Prohibition vote, in addition to probably 50 per cent. of the Progressive vote.

DEMOCRATS WILL HAVE 18 MAJORITY IN NEXT CONGRESS

Returns From 69 Districts Incomplete and Majority May Run to 33 Votes.

With definite news from sixty-nine Congressional Districts lacking the indications from the returns attainable so far that the present Democratic majority of 141 in the House of Representatives will be cut to a majority of from eighteen to thirty-three.

It is certain that there will be about eleven Progressives, one Independent (William Kent of California) and at least one Socialist in the next House. The present returns indicate that the two Socialists who expected to be elected in Wisconsin have been beaten.

The successors of seventeen Democrats and sixteen Republicans in the United States Senate were elected yesterday. The results are in doubt in California, Colorado, Illinois, Kansas, North and South Dakota, Utah and Washington.

The Democrats are sure of sixteen of the incoming Senators, and the Republicans are sure of only ten, with seven in doubt.

The present Senate stands: Democrats, 53; Republicans, 42; Progressive, 1, with a Democratic majority of 10.

If the Republicans should elect in four of the seven doubtful States the Democrats will have in the next Senate a majority of seventeen. A Democratic majority is already assured, even if all doubtful States go Republican.

The following are certain of election: O. W. Underwood, D., Alabama; M. A. Smith, D., Arizona; J. P. Clark, R., Arkansas; T. P. Fletcher, D., Florida; G. H. W. Harkins, D., Georgia; H. K. Smith, D., Idaho; J. H. Bradley, R., Indiana; A. B. Cummins, R., Iowa; N. M. Camden, D., Kentucky; J. C. W. Beckham, D., Kentucky; W. P. Gilliam, R., New Hampshire; J. W. Wadsworth, Jr., R., New York; L. B. Overman, D., North Carolina; J. W. Harding, R., Ohio; G. D. Gurnea, D., New Hampshire; G. E. Chamberlain, D., Oregon; Boies Penrose, R., Pennsylvania; E. R. Smith, D., South Carolina; W. F. Gallagher, R., Vermont; F. F. McGowan, R., Wisconsin.

The National Democratic Committee advised President Wilson early in the day that it was assured of the election of James D. Phelan in California and the re-election of Senator Thomas of Colorado.

Reports from Kansas agreed late this afternoon that former Senator Curtis (Republican) was leading Murdock (Progressive) and Nealey (Democrat) for the United States Senate.

EAST SIDE SOCIALIST WHO BEAT GOLDFOGLE FOR SEAT IN CONGRESS

REPUBLICANS GET BOTH BRANCHES OF LEGISLATURE

Win Back Senate by 17 Majority and Retain Assembly by 48.

The next Legislature will be Republican by overwhelming majorities in both branches. According to latest returns the political complexion of the next lawmaking body will be: Senate—Republicans, 54; Democrats, 17; total, 61. Republican majority, 17.

Assembly—Republicans, 48; Democrats, 50; Progressive, 1; total, 100. Republican majority, 48.

On joint ballot—Republicans, 133; Democrats, 68; total, 201. Republican majority, 65.

So far as the returns show, only one Progressive, Fish, of Putnam, was elected to either House, although the Progressive indorsement helped several Democrats and Republicans to win.
